

We are the 'New Age' building entrepreneurs who have applied corporate standards to small business so we signify professionalism within the building industry. We specialise in villa and bungalow renovations in central Auckland. Our work is intricate, interesting and challenging.

We are now in expansion mode and looking for a hardworking, down-to-earth Hammer Hand to come on board and become part of our great success story.

Here's what our staff say about Straightline Builders:

Ed has worked with us for 2.5 years since we started and is now our Senior Builder:

"Best thing about working for SLB is working with people you trust and like – that really goes along way. You completely get the opportunity to grow, never feel out of depth but SLB let you maximise your potential – to grow as a person and a builder".

Dan has worked with us for 21 months starting out as our Apprentice:

"SLB is a great company to work for because of the environment and the people – it's a really supportive team. We all work together and our Boss's want us to do better and learn. They are outgoing and really look after us, such a cool new fresh approach to a company. Everyone cares and are interested in us. Not every company gets to go on a helicopter to Waiheke Island for the day, but we did!

Adam has worked with us for 21 months:

"As an apprentice with Straightline Builders, I enjoy working with a group of skilled individuals, who care about about what they do . It's also good to have a boss who is both easy to approach and willing to teach me. I enjoy carrying the professional service of the company. And I like that Straightline sets its own benchmark against competitors."
